

House

This is my place, my house, my rules
This is my place, my house, my rules

I think that in the silence we are climbing to the sky to sit with the stars
We might be apart
In my deepest self reflection, build a city stay forever young, forever young

This is my place, my house, my rules
This is my place, my house, my rules
Do you see me? Feel me? Don't think you do
Cause this is my place, my house, my rules

I paint a picture so that we are climbing all the way up to sit with the stars
That's where we are
I cannot be invisible, you make yourself invincible, to make it up, don't make it up

Cause this is my place, my house, my rules
This is my place, my house, my rules
Do you see me? Feel me? Don't think you do
Cause this is my place, my house, my rules

You're so welcome in this house that I have built
Where imagination feeds the things you feel
And you're so welcome in this place that I am still
Where imagination feeds the things you feel

And this is my place, my house, my rules
This is my place, my house, my rules
This is my place, my house, my rules
This is my place, my house, my rules
My rules
It's my rules